

Become a World Class Coaching Leader

Leadership coaching is the most modern leadership tool in the world right now. The outcome of Coaching Leadership is motivated engaged employees, satisfied customers and improved financial result. And for yourself as a manager a great satisfaction, time off and the gratitude of being able to contribute.

Everything counts down to the leader! We will teach you how to become that leader by presenting a unique leadership model – The Propeller model – that describes how to become a clear manager, an inspiring leader and a responsive coach. All in one! This is the bottom line what this is all about.

During this training we will first take you to the coaching tool kit, support you to learn how to use coaching techniques in your leadership position. When you are familiar with that you will combine coaching skills with management and leaderships skills.
